

Contributing Author Biographies

Asya Yanchinova is a Business Management and Biology major with a Business Law minor. She ultimately wishes to become a lawyer after she graduates in 2015.

Nicole Wenzel is a senior Accounting major at FAU with Business Law and Economics minors. She plans to begin the Certified Public Accountant examinations this year. Her plans include completing her degree in Fall 2014 and furthering her education in Taxation Law by attending law school.

Emanouil Petrov is studying at the FAU College of Business and majoring in Finance. He expects to graduate in May 2014 with a bachelor's degree in Finance and a Minor in Business Law.

Shanique Mais is a senior at Florida Atlantic University with a major in Accounting and minor in Business Law. She believes in the purpose of the Undergraduate Law Journal and the vision of the founders to promote awareness and encourage involvement and interest in the legal system of the United States. Shanique plans to sit for the CPA exam in 2015 with an ultimate goal of specializing in forensic accounting.

Nick Devuono is a senior Psychology major at Florida Atlantic University and plans to graduate in the Summer 2014. He also plans to go to Law School in the fall.

William Bavier was an officer of the FAU Law Journal at Davie campus in 2013. He majored in Political Science and served as a member of the House Representatives at the FAU Broward campus. William intends to further his education by attending law school.

Ryan Chae graduated from FAU in 2012, and was the proud founder of the Undergraduate Law Journal. Ryan currently attends Nova Southeastern Law and hopes to contribute to the continuous development of the Undergraduate Law Journal for years to come, so that an expansion of legal education may take place at FAU.

Jessica Cohn-Kleinberg majored in English with a focus in creative writing. She started writing at the ripe age of 8 in order to entertain her family, and hasn't stopped since. Sometimes she still writes stories about princesses and fairies when no one is looking.

Keila dos Santos was a co-founder of the FAU Law Journal Davie and the Executive Editor in 2013. She graduated with an interdisciplinary degree in Political Science, Economics and Women, Gender & Sexuality Studies. As a South Paw (left-handed folk) she idealistically aspires to change the world through right-brained critical analyses and hopes to continue to nurture the creativity of law journal contributors while keeping a keen eye on the linear mechanics of argumentation.
