

EDITORIAL NOTE:

The following detachable pages describe some industrial employment opportunities for graduating chemical engineers. Please post the information in a conspicuous place for the benefit of your students, or distribute the pages to students who may be interested. These companies have expressed a definite interest in hiring chemical engineers in the areas described, and we strongly encourage students seeking employment to respond as indicated.

Ray W. Fahien

Editor

Chemical Engineering Education