

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING DIVISION ACTIVITIES

TWENTY-SIXTH ANNUAL LECTURESHIP AWARD TO STANLEY I. SANDLER

The 1988 ASEE Chemical Engineering Division Lecturer is STANLEY I. SANDLER of the University of Delaware. The purpose of this award lecture is to recognize and encourage outstanding achievement in an important field of fundamental chemical engineering theory or practice. The 3M Company provides the financial support for this annual award.

Bestowed annually upon a distinguished engineering educator who delivers the annual lecture of the Chemical Engineering Division, the award consists of $1,000 and an engraved certificate. These were presented to Dr. Sandler at a banquet on June 21, 1988, during the ASEE annual meeting in Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Sandler's lecture was entitled "Physical Properties and Process Design," and it will be published in a forthcoming issue of CEE.

The award is made on an annual basis, with nominations being received through February 1, 1989. Your nominations for the 1989 lectureship are invited.

AWARD WINNERS

A number of chemical engineering professors were recognized for their outstanding achievements. The George Westinghouse Award was presented to THOMAS F. EDGAR (University of Texas at Austin) to acknowledge his commitment to excellence in education and his many contributions to the improvement of teaching methods for engineering students.

The Curtis W. McGraw Research Award went to NICHOLAS A. PEPPAS (Purdue University) in recognition of his exceptional research accomplishments in advancing the fundamental understanding of basic process systems.

DANIEL E. ROSNER (Yale University) received the Meriam/Wiley Distinguished Author Award, and RICHARD M. FELDER (North Carolina State University) was the recipient of the Wickenden Award. The Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award for the Midwest Section went to BALA SUBRAMANIAM (University of Kansas).

THOMAS W. WEBER (State University of New York at Buffalo) was honored with two awards: The AT&T Foundation Award for the St. Lawrence Section and the Outstanding Zone Campus Representative Award.

ANGELO J. PERNA (New Jersey Institute of Technology) was one of the select few singled out for special recognition by his election as an ASEE Fellow.

CORCORAN AWARD TO C. THOMAS SCIANCE

C. THOMAS SCIANCE (E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Company) was the recipient of the third annual Corcoran Award, presented in recognition of the most outstanding paper published in Chemical Engineering Education in 1987. His paper, "Chemical Engineering in the Future," appeared in the winter 1987 issue of CEE.
