

---

COASTAL PHOTO BY CARL MILLER

---

Buxton, North Carolina. View looking north from above Cape Point on 31 October, 1991 during the height of the "Halloween" storm. The shoreline position changes at the Cape Hatteras Lighthouse. While the 5 m, 22 sec waves were too much for the surfers that frequent the waters adjacent to the lighthouse, about 2 dozen wind surfers (not visible) were observed west of Buxton in the Pamlico Sound. (Photograph by Carl Miller, WES/CERC Field Research Facility, Duck, North Carolina).